

PARKER ANSWERS T. P. ASSOCIATION

County Highway Commissioner
Says Recent Article Is Boost
For Good Roads

Your communication published in your last issue purported to be from the Oneida County Tax Payers Ass'n, (but really from, or the ideas of its President, as I personally know of members in said association who favor as large a bond issue as can be made) is one of the best boosts for good roads ever published, and as a rule coincides with the ideas of the Wisconsin State Highway Commissions, and if the President will read my recommendations to the board, at its September meeting, he will note that he says the law says to stand at the county seat, and build a continuous road to the adjoining county line, while I made the following recommendation:

You have several long pieces of uncompleted roads in your county, where it would be a waste of money to build a mile per year, and have to maintain same, where it could not be used until the entire piece is completed, and would suggest if you intend to do this work to put it to a vote of the people to bond the county for $200,000 placing it upon these uncompleted portions at the rate of $100,000 per year, and each year finish as many complete stretches as possible, said work to be laid out by a competent engineer, and let by contract.

But, I see that the president who quotes the law, says if the bonding issue goes through, that it will cost the city about $16,000 the first year, and if he would spend as much time looking up the road laws as he does to discover that members of the county board received $6.00 per diem illegally last year, including said president, he would discover that the county board intends to recommend bonds, if at all, under section 967-67 which allows counties with a majority of votes cast at any general election to bond for 1% for a period of twenty years. This means that the limit of bonds for Oneida county will be $140,000, payable in twenty years. That would mean that Oneida county would have to pay yearly, $7,000, and interest in equal amount, and Rhinelander's share would be 38 1/2% or $5290.00, including interest. It is the general impression in the city of Rhinelander that they pay 38 1/2% of all state roads built but if you will note in your last issue, appropriations for 1917. For example take the town of Three Lakes which appropriated $1000. The county met it in an equal amount, and the state, under the Phillip administration, cut the appropriation so that they can only pay $186.13, but failed to cut the overhead expense in comparison, that makes the tax payers of Three Lakes pay $1088.95. County $1007.18, and the city's share being $122.41, to build $2186.13 worth of road.

Another had impression that seems to be in circulation is that the County Highway Commissioner places the money where he sees fit, where in fact the voters, at their annual election, says which piece of road shall be improved in their respective district, and the state aid road and bridge committee says how it shall be expended, either by contract or day labor, and up to the present, the cost price is practically the same.

The voters of Oneida county have to decide this question, and if they will read the recommendation of the County Highway Commissioner, whose report is in printed form, and can be procured at his office, or from the chairman of the town you live in, from the recommendations of the county board, at their meeting in January, and from the tax-payers' association they ought to get a fair idea of what they want, and vote accordingly. At least, I am perfectly willing to leave it to their judgment.

FRANK E. PARKER,
County Highway Commissioner.

HUNTERS BATTLE WITH BITTERN

Two Milwaukee hunters, who were in Vilas county in quest of deer a few days ago, report having had a desperate encounter with a biter, a bird of the heron variety, which inhabits the lake regions of Oneida, Vilas and other northern Wisconsin counties. They succeeded in capturing the bird alive.

Here is the story as taken from the Milwaukee Journal:

"After I saw it fall, my friend and I ran over to pick it up—we thought it was dead. Instead, it began to battle desperately with us. At the end, my friend's lip had been bitten and I had a wound in my hand."

This is what Matt Muenning, 2015 Galena St., told of his hunting trip in Vilas county. The "it" referred to is an American biter, about three feet long. When it was finally subdued, Mr. Muenning declares he discovered that the bird was only slightly wounded under one of the wings.

Upon his arrival in Milwaukee he presented the bird, which is yellow, to the Washington Park Zoological society, and, according to Supt. Edward Bean, the bird will live.

"Yes, it is true that these birds are very vicious and full of fight," says Mr. Bean. "They are very deliberate in their actions."

But the biter was not all that Mr. Muenning shot.

"My friend and I each got a deer—mine weighing ninety-nine pounds. I also shot a wolf; I used only one shot."

Because he was in a hurry to get back with the bird and deer, Mr. Muenning said he left the wolf in the woods and did not collect the bounty.

OLD SPUD CENTERS FALLING BEHIND

Oneida county emphasized the pre-eminence of Northern Wisconsin as the potato raising center of the state by carrying off first prize for the fourth successive time at the annual State Potato Show, held under the auspices of the Wisconsin Potato Growers Association in Eau Claire last week. It was Oneida county that won first prize for Wisconsin at the National Potato Show last year, and from the excellent showing made in Eau Claire this year, it is expected to repeat.

That the old potato raising centers are fast falling behind in raising potatoes of quality is shown by the winning of the next prizes by Barron, Rusk, Lincoln, and Price counties in the order named. Wau-paca and Portage counties took ninth and twelfth places respectively.

The Rusk county Boys and Girls' Club captured first prize for Club exhibits.

The three day meet was featured by a program, on which appeared several potato authorities of national reputation.

The places and points received by the fifteen counties entered in the booth exhibits were as follows:

Oneida Co., silver cup.....	92 2-3
Barron County.....	90 1-2
Rusk County.....	87 2-3
Lincoln County.....	84 2-3
Price County.....	81 1-6
Langlade County.....	81
Oconto County.....	82 2-3
Sawyer County.....	82
Wau-paca County.....	81 2-3
Wood County.....	81 1-3
Forest County.....	80 1-3
Portage County.....	77 5-6
Bayfield County.....	76 1-6
Eau Claire County.....	74 1-6
Dunn County.....	67 5-6

WEIGLE APPEALS COURT DECISION

Rhinelander grocermen and other dealers in preserved foods are much interested in the news that Commissioner George J. Weigle of the Dairy and Food Commission will take an immediate appeal to United States Supreme Court on the injunction granted the Curtice Brothers Company, Rochester, New York by Judge A. L. Sanborn against enforcement of the state law prohibiting benzate food products to be shipped into Wisconsin.

In a recent decision in the federal district court Judge Sanborn declared against the state law. Commissioner Weigle continued the enforcement of the law and the Curtice Company asked an injunction which was granted. In his decree Sanborn held that as shipments of the Curtice products into the state were made in conformance with interstate commerce, the federal, rather than state, laws would apply. Under state laws the use of benzate of soda in food stuffs is adulteration and illegal.

INSPECTOR CALLS ON DEALERS HERE

State Pure Food Man Finds
Stores and Markets In Sanitary Shape

G. H. Eigenberger, State Food Inspector, spent a couple of days here inspecting grocery stores, meat markets, confectioneries, bottling works, etc. "In general the conditions are as good as the average, and the attitude of the merchants is good," he says. "There are, however, some butchers and grocery men that need to be more careful of sanitary conditions. Warnings were given, and if conditions are not made satisfactory, prosecutions will have to follow," he added.

"In this connection I suggest that every dealer in eggs read carefully the following: a reproduction of a poster gotten out by the Dairy and Food Commissioner," he said:

The Wisconsin law forbids the sale or offering for sale of eggs unfit for human food. Section 4601, fifth specification under "Food": "If it consists of or is manufactured wholly or in part, from a diseased, tainted or rotten animal or vegetable substance or any animal or vegetable substance produced, stored, transported, or kept in a condition that tends to render the article diseased, contaminated or unwholesome," etc.

Fine not less than $25.00 nor more than $100.00, or imprisonment in the county jail not less than 30 days nor more than 4 months.

To avoid the penalties of this pure food law, all dealers are advised to candle all eggs and to throw out all spots, blood rings and rots. Inspectors of this department are instructed to enforce these provisions of the law.

Suggestions to farmers:

Sell eggs on a loss-off basis.

Provide plenty of clean, dry nests for your hens.

Gather the eggs daily in cool weather and twice a day in hot or rainy weather.

Keep eggs in a cool, dry place, which is free from odors.

Don't sell incubator eggs. They are bad.

Market your eggs daily, if possible; if not, every other day.

Don't sell eggs which were found in a stolen nest.

Keep the eggs out of the sun when taking them to town.

Don't keep eggs near oil, onions, etc., as they readily absorb odors.

Kill or sell all roosters as soon as the hatching season is over.

W. C. T. U. HOLD FATHER'S MEETING

The Fathers' Meeting, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Crosby on Wednesday evening November 22, was one of the most enthusiastic and inspirational temperance meetings ever held in the city of Rhinelander. There was a good number present and splendid addresses were given by the following named gentlemen:

Mr. Mackin, Supt. of the County Training School, spoke on "Alcohol from an educational standpoint."

A paper written by Dr. Bennett on "Alcohol and the Child" was read by Mr. Crosby. Dr. Bennett being unable to be present.

Rev. F. R. Wedge gave an address on "Fathers," while Mr. Stapleton, Mr. Crosby, Dr. Westgate, Rev. Heyl of the Congregational church, Rev. P. LaPorte of the Swedish Baptist church and Rev. Wm. Wilson of the Methodist Episcopal church also spoke on the various phases of the temperance work.

Through the kindness of the ladies a splendid lunch was served, after which Mrs. D. J. Cole took her position at the piano and the company joined in singing temperance songs, the favorite being, "Wisconsin is going dry." The W. C. T. U. intend holding a number of such meetings during the winter months.

TENTH ANNUAL BALL

The Papermakers' union of this city will hold its tenth annual Christmas ball in the Armory Monday night, December 23. Tickets are selling at one dollar.

HUSTING BAGS BUCK

Senator Paul O. Huston, in camp as a guest of the Minocqua Hunting and Fishing Club at Cedar Falls, fourteen miles north of Minocqua, bagged a 150-pound four-prong buck, according to a message from A. J. Bolger of the club.

CLAIMS BUCK LAW CHECKS ACCIDENTS

"One good thing about the one buck law is its tendency in decreasing the number of hunting accidents in the northern Wisconsin woods," said an old Rhinelander hunter, Tuesday. "The majority of hunters look carefully at what they intend to shoot before pulling the trigger, and while they may not hesitate to kill a doe, are not apt to shoot a man. Take in Oneida county for instance, there has not been a hunting accident this season and no accidents of any serious nature for several seasons. Adjoining counties can also give as good a record. Hunters are learning not to shoot at everything that moves. While I agree with Dr. Garner that the one buck law is being shamefully violated, I do believe that it is proving effective in checking accidents."

ARREST MAN AS WRECK SUSPECT

Officers, However, Believe
Johnson Has No Knowledge
Of Manitowoc Crimes

A man, who gives his name as Victor Johnson, is being detained in the county jail in this city on suspicion of being implicated in the wrecking of Northwestern limited train No. 111, near Manitowoc, two months ago, resulting in the death of the engineer and fireman.

Johnson, who is believed to be a Finlander, was arrested by a Northwestern detective in Woodruff after it is alleged that he threatened destruction to certain Northwestern railroad property in that village. It is said that one of his threats was to blow-up a locomotive. A Woodruff officer brought Johnson to this city.

Wednesday D. H. Crowder, a Northwestern special detective, subjected the prisoner to a rigid examination in the county jail but could learn nothing from Johnson which might involve him as the train wrecker. He stoutly denied having had anything to do in connection with the crime. He was in the vicinity of Manitowoc at the time of the wreck, it is said.

When Johnson was taken into custody he refused to tell his name, place of residence or business. Later it was learned that he is a laborer, about 45 years of age and has been in the United States about fourteen years. He is a rather tough appearing character. The officials are apparently satisfied that Johnson is not responsible for the Manitowoc wreck and he will probably be released from jail.

NEWS NOTES FROM TRAINING SCHOOL

Mr. Hicks of the State Board of Education gave an interesting synopsis of the play "Experience" November 23.

Ruth Olson will spend Thanksgiving with relatives in Tomahawk. Mr. Johnson of the high school faculty sang for the Training School Wednesday.

The girls from nearby towns who attend Training school will spend Thanksgiving with their parents.

Miss Calvert will spend Thanksgiving in Appleton.

Three cheers for Mr. Juday. He took charge of the agricultural class Monday morning. He is interesting the class in the seven standard variety of potatoes in Wisconsin.

BUYS BAKERY HERE

Saturday a deal was closed where by the business, known as the Oneida bakery at 17 S. Brown street and operated by the Osceola Mill and Elevator Company, became the property of F. McNitt, until recently of Marshfield, Oregon. Mr. McNitt is a baker of long experience and will be in personal charge of the bakery department. John Belonger remains in his employ as does also Miss Mae Panabaker.

Mr. McNitt believes that Rhinelander has a brilliant future in the business line and feels that he has made no mistake by locating here.

45 PUPILS ATTEND NEW NIGHT SCHOOL

Both Young and Old Grasp Opportunity To Increase Knowledge

The first session of the evening school was held at the high school building, Monday evening. There were 42 pupils present. 10 of these are taking bookkeeping. There are 16 in the Stenography and typewriting classes, 10 are studying drafting, 3 are in the woodworking class, and there are 3 in the class of English for foreigners. W. D. Hoover of the office force of the Wisconsin Veneer Company has charge of the bookkeeping class. Miss McEneroe of the high school corps is teaching stenography and typewriting, while Principal Short has the classes in manual arts.

The class in English for foreigners is commencing at the very beginning of reading and writing English. We hope there will be a large addition to this class at the next session. The members of the class so far are young men who are anxious to learn to read and write English. No one need hesitate to come for any reason whatever. In the moonlight schools of Kentucky, which were organized to wipe out illiteracy in the mountain districts of that state, many of the pupils were from seventy to ninety years old, and all of them learned to read and write. Any men and women, young or old, in the city of Rhinelander who wish to learn to read or write, or to improve their ability in reading and speaking English are urged to attend these classes. Mr. Colburn is teaching them at present but other teachers will be secured in the near future.

We expect these classes may become so large that we shall have to engage a whole force of teachers. Any one who knows of people in the city who will be benefited by this class is requested to notify Prin. Short or Mr. Colburn, and then to urge the persons to attend the evening class. Let our slogan be "Every adult in Rhinelander shall learn to read and write English."

The attention of parents of high school pupils is again called to the Parent-Teachers' meeting that will be held in the high school auditorium, Friday evening, December 8th. Besides a short program consisting largely of music those present will be addressed by Professor Cheever of the Milwaukee Normal school. Mr. Cheever always has something good for us and all those who come may feel confident of hearing a good talk. We hope the patrons of the high school will take this opportunity to visit the new building and become acquainted with their children's teachers.

A series of teachers' meetings is being held at the high school. The one next week will occur Thursday afternoon in the high school at four o'clock. There the teachers will be addressed by A. A. Thompson, of the State Department. Mr. Thompson is an old city superintendent with years of experience. His work as an inspector has brought him into touch with schools of all types. His talk, which will be on "The Technique of the Recitation," will undoubtedly be of great value. Mr. Thompson comes to us thru the courtesy of County Superintendent F. A. Lowell; at whose meetings he is to speak during the day.

School closes for the Thanksgiving recess on Wednesday evening. Many of the teachers have sought their homes, where they may once more enjoy mother's cooking. The officers of the school board very courteously gave the salary checks on Wednesday noon, thus giving the teachers something real to be thankful for.

School was dismissed for the week in the West Side school in order that much needed improvements in the way of water closets can be installed. Miss Longleau is visiting her home this week, where she is to act as bridesmaid for one of her girlhood friends.

Basket ball practice goes on vigorously every afternoon in the week. The prospects are good for some excellent games. Requests for games have been received from Tomahawk, Medford, Eagle River and Butternut. Besides these we hope to secure games with Antigo and Wittenberg, and if possible with Birnamwood and New London. If all goes well we may endeavor to arrange a game with one of the down-state teams, either Fond du Lac or Oshkosh.

Parents may be glad to know that the school board is doing all in its power to make the buildings safe for the children in the event of fire. Extra railings have been placed on (Continued on page four)

ONEIDA'S SHOWING PLEASES LUTHER

Madison, Wis., Nov. 25, 1916.
Mr. F. A. Lowell,
Rhinelander, Wisconsin.
Dear Mr. Lowell:

Well, Oneida county made itself known again at the great potato show. It was a great show and to win the place which Oneida county did win was a great honor.

Oneida county may well be proud of the names of the men who represented it at this show: Juday, Peterson, Gustafson, Myers, Schoeneck, Burkhardt, Jewell, Blumenstein, Kuey, Campbell, Lytle and Delong. If these people do not become over-confident and will just keep right on with their potato work carefully—systematically they will remain among the leaders as long as they grow potatoes. This is the best little army that any county has and it will take a good strong bunch of potato growers to beat them out.

What a difference in five years. That long ago no one knew much about Oneida county except to its discredit. Now its name is a sort of household word and wherever potatoes are marketed there is the name ONEIDA always thought of.

If the men who have made the potato business in Oneida county will stick to it and keep up their soil and grow good healthy potatoes the name of Oneida county will always be up in the front. With this fine bunch of men studying and working upon the proposition I think that Oneida county will be known for a long time.

I am planning on some good things for the great northeast country. I hope to help the men up there a lot. With many best wishes for the success of the good county I am as ever

Yours very truly,
E. L. LUTHER.

PLAN BIG SKI SLIDE FOR CITY

Scandinavian Residents Propose To Build Structure On Ridgeway Hill

Scandinavian residents of Rhinelander are discussing the proposition of building a long ski slide on one of the hills near this city. It is said that the promoters propose to erect a slide which would cost several hundred dollars, the expense to be borne by the ski enthusiasts here. Two or three suitable locations are being considered, one of them being near the high school building. This the ridgeway hill or "hog's back" location is looked upon as the most feasible, owing to its ideal natural conditions and close proximity to this city.

Within the last few winters ski riding has become quite a popular pastime in Rhinelander, especially among the Scandinavians and people of Scandinavian descent. Many remarkably clever ski jumpers have developed here and some of the long distance jumps executed by them would make a professional sit up and take notice.

With a ski slide here the followers of the sport would be better able to improve their skill and at the same time realize greater enjoyment.

Should the slide be constructed there is a possibility that this city would be the scene of many exciting ski tournaments, such as are now held in many northern Wisconsin and northern Michigan cities, and in which ski riders of national and international repute participate. These events would draw a big attendance of outside people and would result in liberal free advertising for Rhinelander.

HAS ANYBODY HERE SEEN LOUIE?

(With Apologies to Kelly)
Has anybody here seen Louie?

MANY a man says it's worth losing a five dollar bill to learn about the little chew of W-B CUT. It saves more than that on what he spends for tobacco, but the big point is that he has found what tobacco satisfaction means. W-B CUT is rich tobacco, there's more to it. The threads and the touch of salt bring out the tobacco satisfaction without so much chewing and spitting.

LITTLE CHATS ABOUT POULTRY

How are your hens going to get along this winter? Are they going to pay their own way or will you have to carry them along as a dead expense until warm weather?

It will pay you to think about this now and to plan the handling of birds for the coming months. When you once look into the subject of winter laying you will find it extremely interesting and you will get a lot of pleasure from carrying out ideas that you feel will make it easier for your flock to sing winter egg songs.

Usually all that is necessary to start such welcome sounds is to house the birds comfortably, keep them free from lice, and feed enough of the right foods to furnish a surplus of material over what the birds need for heat and energy and for repairing their waste tissues.

The housing can very easily be taken care of by seeing that the winter home of your birds is dry and free from drafts; that it provides each bird with at least four square feet of floor space; that it is kept clean and sanitary. Hens need lots of fresh air, so it is a good plan to have the south side of their house contain a good sized opening covered with muslin. This will admit plenty of air, yet protect the birds from cold winds and snow.

When your birds are on the roosts they will need more warmth than during the day, but the roosting quarters should not be overheated. If there is tight wall back of the roosts and on each side, a piece of burlap hung in front of them will afford the birds ample protection in even very cold weather.

The lice problem, too, can be easily disposed of by occasionally dusting your birds with a good lice powder and keeping them supplied with a dust bath or rubbing them with a lice ointment.

The third and most interesting phase of winter egg production is the proper method of feeding. There are a number of different opinions on this and it affords every poultry owner an opportunity for some practical experimenting. However, you will find it hard to improve upon mixed grains for the morning meal.

You can make an excellent grain ration by mixing equal parts of wheat and cracked corn or equal parts of wheat, oats and cracked corn. In extremely cold weather the proportion could be changed to two parts of cracked corn to one part of each of the other grains.

All grains should be fed in a deep litter, so that your birds will have to hunt out every kernel and thereby be kept busy all day long. In that way they will get enough exercise to keep them in laying trim. No matter how much care you give your hens, they will not lay if they are allowed to become lazy and over-fat.

However, when grains alone are fed, it is hard for hens to eat enough to supply the surplus material necessary for egg production. For this reason, you will do well to also feed a good mash. There are a number of ways of making such a mash and it might be well for you to experiment until you find the one that gives best results with your flock under your particular conditions.

Every mash, however, should contain a fair proportion of beef scraps as the animal protein in them greatly aids digestion and egg production.

The mash found to be most productive of winter eggs by the Cornell experiment station is made by thoroughly mixing:

- 60 lbs. Cornmeal,
- 60 lbs. Wheat middlings,
- 30 lbs. Wheat bran,
- 10 lbs. Alfalfa meal,
- 10 lbs. Oil meal,
- 50 lbs. Beef scraps,
- 1 lb. Salt.

Such a mash should be fed dry and kept before your birds at all times, so that they can help themselves whenever they feel hungry for it. If a good poultry tonic is mixed with it, the egg producing organs of your hens will be constantly regulated and the maximum egg yield made possible.

Another great help to egg production is buttermilk or skim milk, provided you have or can get a constant supply of it to feed regularly. When either is fed regularly, the amount of beef scraps can be cut in half.

A daily supply of succulent green food, too, will satisfy your bird's natural craving for green material and help to keep them in laying trim. You can supply green stuff by giving the birds sprouted oats or sliced vegetables, such as cabbage, beets, mangels or small potatoes.

Of course, grit, ground oyster shell, charcoal and fresh water should be kept before your birds all the time. In cold weather, the water should be heated enough to take the chill off.

These little attentions are quite a pleasure to the man or woman who is getting winter eggs, and, therefore, you are sure to find the carrying out of the plans and experiments along these lines both pleasant, interesting, and profitable.

ROADS TO CHECK CAR SHORTAGE

The railroads of the state have adopted new rules to help out the shortage of freight cars. It is claimed that cars at different points have been held for an indefinite time before unloaded and in order to do away with this custom a schedule of new fees have been arranged.

On all state business the consumer is allowed 48 hours in which to unload, and after that time one dollar a day will be charged. This rate will remain the same.

On interstate shipments beginning on December 10, the usual 48 hours will be allowed to unload. After that for the first day $2.00 will be charged, $3.00 for the second day, $4.00 for the third day and $5.00 a day for each day following.

HURRY CHRISTMAS MAILS
At the National association of assistant postmasters' meeting, held at Chicago last week, early Christmas shopping and mailing was commended.

As a result of the meeting, publicity campaigns will be instituted in most cities by postal authorities, the purpose of which will be to impress on the public the needs of reducing the usual flood of mail during the last week before Christmas.

NEWS NOTES FROM NEARBY CITIES

Bayfield—

The herring fishing is on in Bayfield. Several hundred men are given employment at the industry and hundreds of tons of fish are being received. The fishing grounds are located among the Apostle Islands. The dressing of the fish is an interesting sight. Those who engage in this business become experts and some make from $3.00 to $8.00 per day. Just three cuts of the knife are necessary in the cleaning of fish and they are then salted and packed in barrels where they are shipped to the markets all over the United States.

Ladysmith—

The Glen Flora State Graded school is the first school in Rusk county to serve hot dinners to pupils who carry lunches. The "Hot Dinner" project has been started one week ago and over fifty children participate every day. The pupils of each department are asked to bring vegetables for a day's dinner. The domestic science girls, supervised by Miss Hilda Hartman, domestic science teacher, prepare the dinners, wash the dishes and sweep the kitchen.

New London—

The village marshal from Hortonville was here Thursday evening feeling a little like a man who had lost a thousand dollars. He had turned a guest of the village lock-up out only to find by one of the circulars sent out that he was wanted in Illinois, having broke jail while awaiting trial for murder. A reward of $1,000 was offered. As the prisoner had departed this way the Hortonville official followed that evening—Dennis Mularky, a pioneer resident of the town of Bear Creek, burned to death Monday in a fire which destroyed his home. It is said that Mr. Mularky was in the habit of burning wood too long for the stove. On this account the stove door was left open and he pushed the wood in when partly burned. This dangerous habit is believed to have likely caused the fire.

Hurley—

Probably as high as 5,000 fewer deer will be killed during the present season in northern Wisconsin than would have been the case had the snow remained on the ground throughout the season, according to numerous hunters returning from the woods. The advent of warmer weather, which is leaving the ground bare, is bringing hundreds of hunters out of the woods. Deer were plentiful, as shown by the tracks, when there was snow on the ground. The biggest killing was made in the first few days of the season when several inches of snow covered the ground, but since warmer weather has set in, hunters report poor success.

Park Falls—

Considerable prospecting for minerals is being carried on in this vicinity. The Crosby Mining & Exploration company is operating four drills. The Duluth Diamond Drilling company is operating two machines. The Persall Company are operating two drills. The Biwano Mining company has a number of drills in operation. The Kneel and Melurg Lumber company will soon have several drills working. This exploration work is now progressing within twenty miles of Phillips and similar work is being carried on out from Park Falls. Very little publicity has been given to the work thus far done and very little information can be obtained in the matter. However, where so much real prospecting work is started and contemplated by concerns that do not start large expense accounts on unpromising possibilities, there must be some foundation.

Ironwood—

"Exterminate the fox", is the latest cry among Michigan sportsmen. As a result there is to be legislation introduced at the coming session of the legislature which will tend to curb the activities of Bre'r Reynard. Although attempts were made last winter and spring to protect the game birds, it has dawned on many hunters that the greatest destroyer of game bird life in the north woods, or in any of the woods where the birds can live, is the red fox. Hunting parties this season, in the sections of the middle portion of the state, where partridge usually abound, return practically empty-handed. And they blame it all on the fox.

The state game department has had reports for months past to show that the fox steals the birds when they are young, and even in the winter time sneaks up on the old birds while they are roosting, and makes away with them. Game wardens have reported that the destruction of partridge by foxes is much greater than the havoc caused either by the hard winters or by the guns of the hunters.

CAN PROSECUTE FOR GAMBLING
Pool rooms, candy and cigar stores which operate punch boards, slot machines or other contrivances of the kind, are liable to prosecution as gambling houses and the proprietor may be arrested and prosecuted in court on a charge of operating a gambling house.

This ruling is made by the attorney general's department in a case at Durand and many cities will act under it, says a Madison report. Rhinelander barred the punch board and slot machines some time ago.

AFTER GRIPPE

Mrs. Findley Made Strong By Vinol

Severy, Kan.—"The Grippe left me in a weak, nervous, run-down condition. I was too weak to do my housework and could not sleep. After trying different medicines without benefit Vinol restored my health, strength and appetite. Vinol is a grand medicine and every weak, nervous, run-down woman should take it."—Mrs. GEORGE FINDLEY.

Vinol sharpens the appetite, aids digestion, enriches the blood, and builds up natural strength and energy. Try it on your guarantee.

BEGINS MOVE FOR PENNY POSTAGE

Readjustment Of Postal Rates To Be Taken Up By Congress

The ways are now being created for the launching of the movement for the readjustment of postal rates in the next session of congress. This problem was to have been taken up in the last session but had to be deferred on account of the consideration required by railway mail pay. Since this has been disposed of the committees are prepared to take up the matter of placing the various postal rates on a more equitable basis.

A none system of rates for second class matter is being prominently urged to take the place of the present flat rate which was adopted nearly forty years ago. The present rate has for some time been regarded as a discrimination against the newspapers in favor of the great national magazines. Like the parcel post the proposed zone rates would be based on the length of the haul.

The postal committee have been besieged by petitions bearing millions of names and several hundred thousand letters from individuals urging a readjustment of postal rates with a view of making possible one cent letter postage. A survey of the situation indicates that sufficient changes will be made in the various rates to permit the granting of a 1 cent rate on local delivery letters in the next session of congress.

Chairman Moon of the house postal committee, today said: "I think that the committee will take up this second class mail matter at the next session and press it to a conclusion at once. While I cannot speak for the committee, this is my desire in the matter. I do not know what kind of a bill we will pass, whether it will have a zone feature attached to it or not. This view has been presented frequently in years past, and sometimes received favor and sometimes not. As to what shape the legislation will be in I am not able to say, but I am sure the committee will give it the best possible shape in the public interest."

Senator Clapp, of Minnesota said: "Legislation creating a postage rate of one cent on local delivery letters should be enacted by congress without any further delay. In view of the nervous condition of business throughout the country I believe the reduction of the local letter rate from 2 cents to one cent would serve a very valuable purpose by stimulating the commercial situation to a more satisfactory level."

Congressman Stafford, of Wisconsin, one of the leading postal experts in the house, has given extensive study to the question of postal revenues and he firmly believes that there is even large profit to the government with the reduced rates as provided by his bill for 1 cent local delivery letters. He said that "with the inauguration of a one cent local delivery postage the merchants and people generally, who use the mails so frequently for local delivery, will be induced to utilize the mails still more by reason of the reduction of the rate."

Congressman Royal C. Johnson, of South Dakota, "The advocates of 1 cent letter postage have succeeded in educating the patrons of our postal service to the realization that the existing rates are far from being equitable and that the time is opportune for a change. It seems almost certain that the members of the house will have an opportunity of voting on a proposition to extend the American people a cheaper rate on local delivery letters in the next session of congress."

SKATES ON THIN ICE; LOSES LIFE

While skating on Arbor Vitae Lake Wednesday afternoon, Gordon Eschenbach, fifteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Eschenbach of Arbor Vitae, was drowned at 4:50 o'clock.

At the time of his sad death Gordon was accompanied by his brother Frank. When near the Kampke Cottage, which is about one mile from town, they saw a glary patch of ice a short distance away. While advancing toward this, the ice beneath Gordon, who was leading, suddenly gave away. Frank extended a hockey stick to his brother but when the ice began to break beneath him he released his hold and scrambled away from the hole.

Some fishermen hurried toward the struggling boy but arrived too late to assist him. The body was recovered from a depth of thirty feet at 10:00 o'clock Thursday morning.

Besides a father and mother the deceased is survived by five sisters, Ruth, Grace, Helen, Alice and Marian, and seven brothers, Allen, Charles, Frank, Peter, John, William and Walter.

Funeral services will be held at 2:00 o'clock Saturday after which the remains will be laid to rest in the Woodruff cemetery.—Minocqua Times.

FUNGUS DISEASE OF BEANS

Both Wax and Green Varieties are Troubled With Anthracnose—Spray With Bordeaux.

Anthracnose is a fungus disease of both wax and green beans, appearing first as small purplish discolorations but later developing into large, dark spots surrounded by a light brown ring. These spots often run together. A pink mass of spores forms in the center of these spots. The fungus penetrates through the pod and into the seed, causing it to become spotted. The most important method of control is by seed selection. If the disease appears early, the plants can be sprayed with a 3-5-50 formula of bordeaux mixture. Crop rotations and the burning of the infected plants is also very important.

LIGHTING SYSTEM FOR FARM

Add to Convenience as Well as Attractiveness—Encouragement for Small Isolated Plants.

Good lighting systems for house and barn add to the attractiveness as well as to the convenience of farm life. Trouble is usually due to ignorance or negligence. The introduction of modern equipment, such as high-efficiency lamps, has done much to encourage the development of small isolated plants and a few years may make their use common.

"For the cause that lacks assistance;
For the wrong that needs resistance;
For the future in the distance
And the good that we can do."

The Florence Mining News is thirty-six years old. The Mining News is a very creditable weekly and improves with each issue. Here's to your future success Brother Youngs.

The continuation school established in Rhinelander this year was provided for by the state several years ago in cities of 5000 and over. It is too bad for cities to delay in taking these advanced steps. We are glad that our city has at last waked up and is complying with the law in establishing this night school for those who are deprived of opportunity to attend school during the day.

Oneida county, largely due to the good work of its agricultural representative among the farmers, was awarded first prize on potatoes at the Wisconsin potato show in Eau Claire. And yet some counties believe that an agricultural representative doesn't pay.

The Waushara county board has voted to abolish its training school, not to have an agricultural representative and to give no money to the county agricultural society. It is regrettable to see a county take such a backward step. Every county is represented by two elements, the so-called conservatives and radicals. The conservatives believe in opposing every proposition except those which bring money into their own pockets; the radicals are strong for every proposition which means for the progress of the community.

Oneida county has a training school, has an agricultural representative and support a county fair. We are proud to state these facts and would advise slow old Waushara and other Wisconsin counties of the same stripe to wake up.

BOB'S PLURALITY 118,162
Complete official returns, including the soldier vote, received by the secretary of state show that United States Senator Robert M. La Follette received a plurality of 118,162 over his Democratic opponent, William F. Wolfe.

His plurality this year exceeds by more than 15,000 the largest plurality ever before given to any candidate for any office within the gift of the people of Wisconsin. It is 15,000 larger than La Follette's plurality of six years ago, when he received more than 102,000 over S. A. Cook in the Republican primary of 1910. It is 9,000 larger than the plurality given Hughes, and is more than 45,000 greater than the plurality given Governor Philipp.

La Follette received a total of 253,397 votes, or approximately 25,000 more than Hughes and more than 29,000 more than Philipp.

La Follette carried every county in the state excepting two, Kewaunee and Ozaukee. The plurality against him in Kewaunee was but 197 and in Ozaukee was only eighteen.

NOTHING PERSONAL
H. C. Braeger, employee of the Rhinelander Paper Company, appeared in this office a few days ago and expressed his displeasure concerning an article, which appeared in our issue of November 16, 1916, headed "Why Should Braeger Know?" It being his interpretation that this article was intended as a criticism of Mr. Braeger personally. Such interpretation is incorrect. The article was not intended to criticize the reputation, character, virtue or conduct of Mr. Braeger or any other subordinate of the paper company, nor do we think it is susceptible to such interpretation.

When a corporation is represented before a board of review concerning its taxable property the law requires that a full and fair disclosure be made concerning same. The only persons capable of so doing are such representatives as may be fully conversant with the facts, and the Rhinelander Paper company should have been represented before such board by some one able to answer all pertinent questions. The article in question deals with the failure of the paper company to select a representative so qualified.

WHEN THE MEN WERE KIDS
From an unidentified exchange:

Why all this rant and raving about the high cost of living? Forty and fifty years ago, when most of the men of today were kids, we blackened our boots, mother trimmed the surplus socks from our cranium, we went swimming without the modern bathing suit, mother and sisters knit and darned our socks, we wore old-fashioned boots or went bare-foot, never saw what is called underwear and overcoats today—just a home-made woolen shirt and twopiece suits; ate mush and milk, home-made breads, good meats and vegetables. Did we enjoy life? Well, you bet we did. Just observe the living conditions of today—the shoe shining parlors, the modern barber shops, the chipmunks, and manicurists, bath houses, cleaning and pressing establishments, laundries, candy kitchens and fancy drinking parties; expensive restaurants, hotels, cigar stores, automobiles, garages, telephones and numerous other luxuries and non-essentials. Still the people are not satisfied—they want more luxuries.

CHARGE DISCRIMINATION
Members of the Wisconsin National guard are trying to find out just why they will be members of the guard for three years and then members of the reserve army for three years more, when guardsmen of the state of Illinois are not meeting the same requirements, according to reports from Chicago.

Newspapers in Chicago are printing articles in which it is said: "The Illinois National guard is on the rocks. Disintegration will come through inability to recruit its strength up to the new government requirements."

The articles remark that the period for guardsmen to sign the oath to remain as reserves for three years after retirement from active militia duty expires next Thursday. "Grave misgivings," they say, were expressed as to the number of men who would take the oath.

One Illinois guardsman is quoted as saying that 90 per cent of his company would not re-enlist. Unwillingness to contract for long periods of service and on reserve in order that these fellows in civilian life might escape such duty, is the reason assigned.

But with the Wisconsin National guard all is different. The entire organization, Capt. Carl Penner of Troop A, Milwaukee, tells how it happened.

"Practically all of the Wisconsin National guardsmen took the oath prescribed in the national defense act in Camp Douglas before they went to the border for service," he said. "The act was passed June 3, to go into effect July 1. About June 20, before the act could go into effect and while the men were in camp, the oath was administered, so every man is a member of the guard for three years, as well as of the reserves for another three."

"Has it affected recruiting since the return of the troops?" he was asked.

"We have been back such a short time I have not had a chance to find out," Capt. Penner replied. "Illinois let the matter rest too long. I suppose the members of the guard there don't feel much like taking the oath after coming out of the border service. I think the movement for compulsory military service, or conscription, has much to do with the condition in Illinois"—Sentinel.

CAN WE REAT IT?

Shall Wisconsin have a Pound-a-Day cow club?

The dairymen of one of our neighboring states have organized a 200-pound club and it is doing much to encourage the raising and keeping of bred-for-production cows. Any dairymen in that state who is having his cows tested or can have his private records sufficiently well supervised is eligible to compete for membership in this club. The requirements are that he must have 10 or more cows producing 300 pounds of butterfat or more a year. Those qualifying for the club are awarded a medal at each annual meeting of the state dairymen's association.

There should be among the members of Wisconsin's 50 odd cow testing associations and the number of breeders who are having their herds tested a considerable number of members of a Pound-a-Day cow club. N. A. Negley, Madison, representing the Wisconsin Dairymen's association, the United States Department of Agriculture, and the University of Wisconsin, will be pleased to hear from dairymen upon this project.

There is one constitutional proposal, which if approved by the coming session of the legislature, will be submitted to voters for their consideration at the next general election. This is the constitutional amendment which would allow a sheriff to succeed himself in office. Under the constitution at the present time a sheriff serving one term cannot be a candidate for office until a term has elapsed. The amendment which passed the last session of the legislature permits a sheriff to succeed himself in office. Under the constitution of Wisconsin, before a change can be made in the basic document it must pass two successive sessions of the legislature on a roll-call and then be approved by the people. The sheriff amendment is being backed by the sheriff organization of the state.

FIVE PAY FINES FOR KILLING DOES

For violation of the one buck law five Milwaukee men were brought before Judge Charles F. Smith in municipal court last Thursday and each fined $25 and costs.

The quintette whose names are John Schumacher, Irving Nelson, Peter Stein, Edwin Teska and Theodore Semikens pleaded guilty to killing does while hunting in the town of Sugar Camp. Michael Kliest, conservation warden, took the men into custody.

It is understood that other arrests will follow for disregard of the one buck law.

Hunts Without License
Hunting deer without a license proved rather expensive to Charles Murray in municipal court Monday. Murray pleaded guilty to the offense and a fine of $50 was imposed upon him, together with costs.

Revolt of Small Masculinity.
Larry's mamma had been trying to impress it on his mind that little boys should always be polite to little girls and let them be first in games and play. But this did not seem to appeal to Larry that day, and he remarked in an injured tone: "I wish there was a special kind of boy that didn't need to be polite to girls."

NO SNOW; FEWER DEER ARE KILLED

Warm weather this fall will result in more good as far as the propagation of big game in the woods is concerned, than the one-buck or any other legislative enactment, according to W. P. Elliott, conservation warden out of the Madison office, who is making a trip through the haunts of the deer hunters in the upper part of the state.
The weather conditions which are responsible for the absence of snow in the woods, has resulted in the killing of less deer than ever before. It is estimated that probably as high as 5,000 fewer deer will be killed during the present season in northern Wisconsin than would have been the case had the snow remained on the ground throughout the season.
The advent of warmer weather, which is leaving the ground bare, is bringing hundreds of hunters out of the woods. Deer were plentiful as shown by the tracks, when there was a little snow on the ground.
The biggest killings were made in the first few days of the season when there was several inches of snow in much of the deer country, but since warmer weather has set in, hunters report poor success.
According to Mr. Elliott, four prominent Chicago hunters, and one from Hustling, Minn., who had been hunting at the head of Lake Owen were recently arrested for killing deer and having partridge in their possession out of season. One of the largest bucks shot in upper Wisconsin, which weighed 237 pounds was confiscated by Warden Elliott and Wisner from these hunters. The fine administered in each case was $25 and costs.
Elliott said recently: "There is altogether too much noise in the woods and it is next to impossible to get a deer; they keep too far ahead of the hunter."
If there are any hunters who know where does have been killed they should notify the warden, who will make arrangements to have them brought to the city.

SEARCH FOR GIRL
Rhinelander police have been requested by Stevens Point authorities to be on the look out for 15 year old Anna Pollock, who disappeared from Stevens Point, three weeks ago. She packed her belongings, summoned her pet dog to her side, and set out from the residence of Samuel Goldberg, Stevens Point, announcing that she was going to the home of an uncle on the west side of the town.
Anna's home is in Eau Claire, Wis. She went to Stevens Point to work several months ago. It was when she heard that her father and mother were coming to visit her that she determined to go to her uncle. It was learned that instead of going to her uncle's home, however, she went in another direction, toward the downtown district.
Mrs. Goldberg was unable to get the girl's reason for leaving, or to persuade her to remain. Complete mystery surrounds the girl's disappearance. The dog also has not been seen.

all of the stair cases, panic bolts are being installed on all of the outside doors. These panic bolts are so arranged that a touch on a bar that extends across the door will release the door so that it may be swung open. This week, Pyrene fire extinguishers have been placed on every floor of every building. In the near future teachers will be instructed in the use of these extinguishers by a representative of the company. A larger fire extinguisher has been placed in each basement for the use of the janitor. Alarm gongs are to be found in three of the largest buildings and others will be placed in these buildings soon. Fire drills are held at irregular intervals in all of the grade buildings. The entire building can be emptied in from one to two minutes.

The enrollment of the high school still remains at the 272 mark. Two pupils withdrew last week and two new ones entered Monday morning. Lena Cousineau returns from Hibbing, Minn., to enter the Senior class and Borghild Lee, whose parents have moved here from Rice Lake, joins the Sophomores, so once more we have no vacant seats.

THE PEPPLESS MAN

Breathes there a man with soul so dead,

Who never to himself has said:
"My biz of late is on the bum;
"I need some pep to make things hum."

If there be such pray let me tell
For him no business big shall swell;
No angels on the golden stair
The clump who never roots for biz
Shall welcome home a millionaire.

By peppy pep or push of his,
Shall never conquer worlds afar
Nor hilt his choo-choo to a star.
But he who always wants to learn
Is just as sure as fate to turn
His little hamlet upside down
And be the big man of his town.

Yet there be some who never try
To boost their records to the sky.
They drift serenely down the stream
And those with pep get all the cream.
The one who says that's good enough
Is made of mighty spongy stuff.

For when a man has lost his vim
We might as well go bury him.
And when we do we'll plant him deep
So that he may forever sleep—
Away down deep—no sounds dispel
The peppy life he loves so well.

And so that all may know the loss
The world has met among the moss,
Upon his stone we'll carve his rep:
"Here lies the man who had no pep"

CHRISTMAS DON'TS BY STAPLETON

A "list of don'ts" pertaining to the sending of mail at Christmas time has been prepared by Postmaster Stapleton for the purpose of informing the people the best manner in which mailable articles should be sent during the rush period.

The postmaster has issued a special request that the people of this city send their parcels early and in this manner not only help the postoffice officials but also assure the delivery of the mail at Christmas time.

A "sticker" with the sign "Do not open until Christmas" can be pasted on all of the mail and in this manner the people will not open the packages no matter when they are received.

A parcel weighing 50 pounds can be sent to any place within 150 miles and a parcel weighing 20 pounds or less can be sent by mail to any place in the United States.

A new ruling has been made whereby a letter with a 2 cent stamp attached can be fastened to a parcel's post package. In this manner the message is assured to reach the party at the same time the bundle does.

Liquid sent in strong bottles, and wrapped in an absorbent are placed in a pasteboard box can also be sent through the mails this year.

All fragile articles, such as millinery, glass and toys must be packed in a double corrugated pasteboard or wood box to prevent their being crushed while in transit. Umbrellas and canes can also be sent through the mails providing that they are reinforced with strips of wood to prevent breaking.

Return addresses as well as the address of person to whom the article is sent should be written plainly on the outside of the parcel.

RED CROSS SEAL SALE DECEMBER 1

Rhinelander Red Cross Seal Sale will open on December 1, in accordance with the usual custom of opening the sale, throughout the country, on the first day after Thanksgiving.

Detailed arrangements for the sale have not yet been made, but it is believed it will be conducted much in the same way as in previous years.

Thousands of cities, towns and villages in the country are entering the competition to see who will sell the most seals for the prevention of tuberculosis in their communities. Over 300,000,000 seals have been distributed for the sale.

South Dakota Banishes John Barleycorn

(Lora S. LaMance)
There is rejoicing in South Dakota that makes its very hills ring with hosannas. In thirty-one years the state has voted eight times on the liquor question, and it was a glorious day when she won that for which she had battled more than a decade.

The churches worked for free South Dakota. Individual men did all in their power. Staunch newspaper men stood by us. All this we gladly acknowledge. But over and above all else stands the monumental fact that the women won this battle.

How the women toiled! How they prayed! How they talked! How they hiked with posters and literature from Harney's Peak to Bad Land Breaks and eastern plains! How they raised money in money-tight regions! How they carried speakers overland where there were no railroads! How they spoke on street corners, in restaurants, depots, picture shows and lodges, at fairs and conventions! How they badged and be-buttressed everybody. They sent their special campaigner to their numerous Indian communities over 80 miles inland, and 185 off from the railroad. They sent her to Russian colonies, and into wet holes that fairly dripped with booze.

It was generally believed that the suffrage amendment was lost two years ago by the Russian Mennonite colonies, of which South Dakota has several. The head men of these colonies were exceedingly opposed to prohibition. They were simply rabid about woman suffrage. Your correspondent made two visits to the colony and had a crowd around her each time. The pastor and she had spirited debates on the two questions. He asked a hundred questions; he argued; the Bible came down. The speaker happened to be the better informed on Bible quotations and tangled the pastor up pretty badly. He honestly acknowledged that she had the best of him and this caused a change in his attitude toward her. In his slow, sincere way he admitted that drink was bad for the Americans and that he saw why mothers wanted the ballot. The master stroke proved to be the pointed request: "If you can't vote for the amendments, do not vote at all." Twice the bothered pastor gave a half promise that he and his men would not vote. These men are slow thinkers but conscientious. He probably had the entire colony ignore the amendments, which was better than a solid vote against them. Anti-prohibitionists had visited this same colony; had filled the minds of the unsophisticated leaders with such stories as this: That dry Wisconsin (?) was full of bootleggers and moonshiners since it voted out the saloons; that several thousand revenue officers had been killed in Wisconsin trying to stop moonshining and that the government had at last called off their men and said they would no longer interfere with the illegal practice, since they could not stop it. They also told the Russians that Kentucky was dry and made prodigious amounts of whiskey. It was all we could do to make the head men believe that the liquor men had made these tales out of whole cloth.

Words fail us to tell of all the activities of these last days. At Blunt, where a special street meeting was arranged for one Monday forenoon, the only possible hour the National speaker could be secured, there was in attendance the president of the district, the supreme court judge, Hon. Charles Whiting and his wife, and the wives of other supreme court judges. The wind howled until a street address was impossible. A restaurant opened its doors, the women drummed up an audience, and at that unheard of hour, the building was filled. The National organizer was followed by Judge Whiting, who made a special plea for woman suffrage.

At Bryant, after three school addresses, and a regular lecture at night, there came a request for a speech from the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, then in session with a banquet to follow. It was given in the lodge room at that late hour.

From brave Mrs. Simmons, the state president of the South Dakota W. C. T. U., to the tiniest L. T. L., the women and girls of South Dakota did their part nobly. All honor to the men and women who won the battle of November 7 in that fair state.

UNCEASING MISERY

Some Rhinelander Kidney Sufferers Get Little Rest or Comfort

There is little sleep, little rest, little peace for many a sufferer from kidney trouble. Life is one continual round of pain. You can't rest at night when there's kidney backache. You suffer twinges and "stabs" of pain, annoying urinary disorders, lameness and nervousness. You can't be comfortable at work with darting pains and blinding dizzy spells. Neglect these ailments and serious troubles may follow. Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills at the first sign of disorder. Thousands have testified to their merit.

Proof of merit in Rhinelander testimony:

Mrs. D. McIntyre, 833 Mason St., Rhinelander, says: "My kidneys were weak and I had attacks of backache. Often I got dizzy and nervous and mornings when I got up, I felt all tired out. I finally got Doan's Kidney Pills at Reardon's Drug Store and was greatly benefited. The tired feeling and pain went away and the kidney weakness was also corrected. I have never been severely troubled since." Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't

"That's just what I've always wished a cigarette would do."
—satisfy!"

The feature of Chesterfields is that they begin where other cigarettes leave off.

In other words, besides pleasing the taste, Chesterfields go further—they satisfy! Just like a long drink of cold water satisfies when you're thirsty.

And yet, Chesterfields are MILD!

It's Chesterfields or nothing if you want this new cigarette delight, because no cigarette maker can copy the Chesterfield blend—an entirely new combination of tobaccos and the biggest discovery in cigarette blending in 20 years.

Wasted Effort.

Comb and brush in hand, a Pittsfield (Mass.) man sat in front of a mirror and fussed and fumed trying to prevail on a refractory hair to lie down. He resorted to water—then to oil, but all without avail. The hair simply wouldn't behave. Finally he looked a little more closely and discovered that the "hair" was a crack in the plaster behind him.

"Turning the Tables."

The Romans took great pride in their tables of citron wood from Mauretania. They were inlaid with ivory and sold at a price that was exceedingly extravagant. When any of the men ventured to accuse the ladies of extravagance, the latter "turned the tables" on them by reminding them of the large sums of money they wasted in buying tables.

Her Patience About Gone.

Helen was fond of playing outdoors and a series of rainy days had tried her patience severely. She had been sitting by the window hopefully watching for signs of clearing, but the down-pour continued. At last she exclaimed in a tone of mingled reproach and disgust: "Well, God, I should think you would be tired of this yourself."

HELP GOOD CAUSE; BUY XMAS SEALS

With the first shipment of Red Cross Christmas Seals out of the Milwaukee office of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association to the local campaign managers in all parts of the state this week, the 1916 seal sale will be in full swing.

The sale of five million seals and the accumulation of five million pennies for continuing and extending the fight against tuberculosis in Wisconsin is the goal which has been set. With a strong determination to regain for Wisconsin the place which it lost to New York last year for the first time in the history of the national movement for financing the fight against tuberculosis by the sale of seals, the campaign has been organized both earlier and more extensively than in preceding years.

Wisconsin must lead the states of its class in the sale of Red Cross Christmas seals. This is the slogan. The large sale is made necessary both by the increasing demands which are made each year on the state association and by the fact that never before in the history of the state campaign have so many communities been interested in supporting health agencies for which funds are required. In a large number of cities, local associations or committees affiliated with the state association will retain half of their seal sale for the financing of local work. In the majority of instances, the money will be devoted to the salary of a school nurse. In some instances this work is already established and in others the 1916 sale will be used as a means of securing the nursing service.

The mail sale, which was tried out last year as an experiment, proved such a success that at least twenty cities in the state will use the plan this year. It has been found that business men especially appreciate the convenience of the mail sales plan and that in this way a maximum of people are reached in a minimum of time, thus greatly facilitating the campaign by personal solicitation.

In order to meet the expected demand for seals, the Wisconsin association has placed its order for 14,000,000 seals. During last year's large sale, it was found necessary to buy seals from other states in order to meet demands.

GET INTO PRINT

No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to be printed without his name and business mentioned somewhere in its columns. This applies to all kinds of business, general stores, dry goods, grocers, furniture dealers, professional men. This does not mean that you should have a whole or half or even a quarter of a page ad in every issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned if you do not use more than a two line space. A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell just what business is represented in a town by looking at the business line-up of the paper.—Exchange.
